Demo Senator Predicts
Possible End to 4-Day
Walkout by Monday

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — Guarded optimism was expressed by high Administration officials tonight over the prospects for an early agreement between management and union to end the four-day-old steel strike.

Schator McFarland, of Arizona, the Administration floor leader, told the Senate there is a possibility the strike of 650,000 CIO Steel Workers, which has put a crippling crimp in the Nation's production of the vital metal, may be settled by Monday.

And John R. Steelman, presidential assistant who brought management and officials of Philip Murray's union together in new negotiations at the White House this morning, announced after an all-day session that "more real" bargaining had been done than at any time since the dispute began eight months ago.

"I certainly am not pessimistic," Steelman told newsmen, "but I wouldn't want to overstate my optimism."

A HOPEFUL sign came from Detroit, too. The Detroit Steel corporation, which employs about 4500 men, announced that it had reached agreement with the union on a new contract. Details were not immediately disclosed, and it was not known whether the settlement might provide a pattern for a Nation-wide contract.

McFarland led a successful fight in the Senate to delay what he termed interference by it in the delicate negotiations.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va) had proposed to write into an extension of the Defense Production act a recommendation to President Truman to invoke emergency sections of the Taft-Hartley act, which permit 80-day no-strike injunctions in such strikes.

Byrd said the strike imperils the Nation's safety and the President's.

Industry Keeps
Operating Here
During Strike

Pottstown's industrial sleeves remain rolled high despite the nationwide steel strike.

Only the Bethlehem Steel company, where 1400 workers are idle, has been affected directly by the strike.

Even a firm like the Spicer Manufacturing division of the Dana corporation, the borough's second largest industry and a heavy user of steel products, does not expect to be hit by the strike unless it lasts a month or six weeks.

Morris R. Gavin, plant manager at Spicer's, which employs 2100 workers, reported last night, "Our inventories are in good shape and it will be some time before our

Legislator Chides
Sad Expressions
At Graduation

By ED ZUMACK
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Pottstown Senior High school's 148 graduates and the more than 800 relatives and friends who sat in the uncomfortably warm school auditorium for the annual commencement exercises received a surprise last night.

Instead of solemnly informing the graduates they were at "the crossroads of life" and "the world is waiting for you to make your mark on it," Orlo M. Brees, a member of the New York State legislature, the commencement speaker, told them:

"I suggest you get the grim looks off your faces and relax. You might as well, because you have to anyhow," then launched an address on "Fences and Horizons" which he effectively studded with jokes.

Between Brees' practical delivery of his message and his jokes, his audience forgot the oppressive heat and enjoyed the impressive exercises, which could have seemed considerably longer had another type speaker been behind the microphone.

Leaning on a wooden lectern, Brees informed the graduates, "We are co-workers together with God in creating a world." That the job of building a world is "too big for you" alone, but it is a challenge.

"I'M NOT going to tell you what kind of a world to build," he said.

8-Year-Old Boy
Struck by Car,
Hurt Seriously

A Roystersford RD 1 youth was injured seriously late yesterday afternoon while riding his bicycle along Major Hollow road, a half mile from his Barlow Heights home.

James Lee MacIntire, 8, son of Merrill and Violet MacIntire, was reported in "satisfactory" condition by a Pottstown hospital spokesman last night.

He suffered a possible fractured skull and bruises and cuts about the body.

The youth was returning from an errand when he was struck by a car driven by Peter Rega, a neighbor, also of Barlow Heights.

HE WAS following his sister, Diane, 10, along the high-crowned Major Hollow road at the foot of a sharp hill. The cyclist was peddling north on the road when the south-bound auto rolled over the hill and struck the second cycle.

Two Motorists
Hurt in Crash

Two Phoenixville motorists were injured about 1:30 o'clock this morning when their automobiles collided on Nutt road, Phoenixville.

William T. Wynne, 42, of 201 Star street, the more seriously injured of the two, suffered a possible fracture of the left wrist, possible chest injuries and bruises of the face.

The other driver, Walter Gumpert, 26, of Church street, had no apparent fractures when taken to Phoenixville hospital with Wynne, but suffered shock and possible asphyxiation from gas fumes.

The West End Fire company ambulance took the men to the hospital. Patrolmen Henry J. Rodrigue and Richard E. Donly, who investigated, said both drivers were traveling toward Phoenixville when the accident occurred.

Doehler Union
Won't Recount

There will be no recount in the Doehler-Jarvis Local 1055 United Auto Workers (CIO) election, it was reported last night by Warren Hoffman Jr., chairman of the election board.

The election in which Leonard A. Keffer, president, was returned to office by a vote of 1254 to 219 developed a discrepancy in counting, it was revealed Wednesday.

A check of returns showed the count for assistant chief steward totaled 1512, but only 1496 ballots were cast and 14 of those were voided. The count for treasurer totaled 1493, but there were only 1482 valid ballots.

It was announced a recount of the ballots showed the extra votes were credited to Gerald Yerger, who was leading in the race for assistant chief steward.

They were not enough to give him a majority and the post will be one of three decided at a runoff election Tuesday.

The runoff will begin at 4 a. m. and polls will close at 11:30 p. m. Ballots will be counted on Wednesday.

OPPOSITION SET TO UNDERTAKER
ON HIGH STREET

Physician and Wife
To Have Views Brought Before Council Monday

The expectation that a funeral home could get unopposed permission to move into a residential property on High street, near Bailey street, was ended yesterday.

Mrs. C. Robert Elicker, whose husband, Dr. Elicker, has physician's offices at 720 High street, where they also have their home, said she objected strenuously to the intention of Kenneth M. Fleischmann to move his funeral home to 726 High street.

The expectation that her declaration ended had been raised Wednesday, when three residents of the 700 block said they had no objection to the move.

Mrs. Elicker emphasized she had no personal objection whatever to Fleischmann, but said she or her husband would definitely oppose the move when a public hearing is held Monday night in council chambers.

THE PLANNING and zoning commission will recommend council approval for a change in the zoning of the 726 High street property (immediately west of the Elicker's home) from commercial to residential.

Fleischmann purchased the 726 High street property, the old H. Leonard Potts home, the past April. His funeral home now is at 238 Beech street.

Mrs. Elicker said, "We object to it, not only because of the fact that it changes the value of our home, but because Dr. Elicker purchased this property largely because parking was available here."

Even if the funeral home provided off-street parking for its business, she said, traffic confusion would be unavoidable. Furthermore, she said, no physician wants a funeral home next door.

Mrs. Elicker said it had not been decided, definitely whether they would voice their opposition in person at the hearing or would obtain the services of an attorney.

WEDNESDAY, THREE residents of the 700 block said they Sunnybrook ballroom, which has been filled since 1931 with the music of the Nation's top name bands, may become a warehouse if its owner finds his customers "won't stand for the taxes" they have to pay, it was learned last night.

Raymond C. Hartenstine, the owner, threatened to convert the huge ballroom into storage space if he found attendance at the weekly dances there was decreasing because of the 10 percent Lower Pottsgrove school board tax the dancers will be paying on admission prices after June 15, plus the existing 20 percent Federal tax.

June 15 is the effective date of the 10 percent amusement tax the school board levied May 5 in the hope of raising enough revenue from it to offset a $23,000 deficit.

Hartenstine said, "I'll try it out until I find the people won't stand for the taxes, then I'll rent it (the ballroom) out for storage or to any outfit that wants it."

NEITHER HARTENSTINE nor Walter J. Wolf, operator of Ringing Rocks park, who protested the proposed levy before the school board adopted it, appealed the tax in the Montgomery county court in Reading State Trooper Stanley Zellin and his patrol car are there to insure safe passage past pickets of a tractor trailer being loaded with apples a few hundred feet away from this conference. The other policeman is Grant Groff, acting as patrolman for Colebrookdale township. On Groff's right is Berks County Sheriff Roy Schweitzer.

Airport at Limerick to Be Site
Of Jacobs Helicopter Project

Pottstown airport along Route 422 near Limerick will be the site for development, assembly and flight-testing of a radically new type of helicopter to be produced by Jacobs Aircraft Engine company, it was learned yesterday.

The airport was sold the past April for a price reported to be in the $80,000-$100,000 range, to Floyd J. Sisto, vice president and general manager of Jacobs, and Alexander Berger, who is in charge of research and development.

It was reported yesterday that these two executives have sold the field directly to Montgomery (for the county) Aircraft corporation. Set up specifically to operate the airport, this corporation is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Jacobs firm.

Jacobs, in turn, is a subsidiary of Barium Steel corporation.

IN ADDITION to use in connection with the helicopter, the airport tract has been taken over to provide a site for future expansion of the aircraft engine firm, which is reaching its expansion limit at its Queen street plant.

Montgomery corporation also has acquired a 10-acre tract of land east of Airport road, and James J. Moore, Pottstown realtor, is holding options for the corporation on other sizeable tracts of land in the vicinity.

The airport will remain open to private flyers. A new license has been granted the new corporation by the Civil Aeronautics administration.

Production plans for the new helicopter were announced yesterday by Barium Steel corporation. A flying model of the helicopter is expected to be ready by the end of this year.

The helicopter was developed in the Queen street plant, with Berger and H. E. Lemont Jr., who is in charge of engineering, heading the project.

Reading Site
Of Hearing at 2 P. M. Today

The bitter, three-week-old strike of about 30 workers in the apple-slicing department of the huge Funk Fruit farms, west of Boyertown, is scheduled to be brought into court today.

A hearing has been set for 2 o'clock this afternoon in Berks County courthouse, Reading, on an injunction move against the pickets and the union backing them.

Seeking the injunction is Mrs. Smith's Pie company. The attorney representing the company, John S. Rhoda, Reading, said the pie company is trying to end interference by pickets with the shipping of fruit owned by the pie company from the Funk warehouses.

Yesterday afternoon, as State and local police stood by outside a fruit farm warehouse to guard against the possibility of illegal picketing, Berks County Sheriff Roy Schweitzer and a deputy, Warren Heinly, served notices of the hearing on the three pickets who were on duty.

ONE OF them was Harry Faust, Boyertown RD 1, a leader of the strike. He was one of two truck drivers who were laid off by the company. This was what touched off the strike.

The other two pickets were women workers who were with Faust outside the warehouse between Boyertown and Shanesville on the rolling 500-acre orchard property. "John Doe" documents were served on them.

Sheriff Schweitzer said a fourth notice was served on Stanley Voverick, of Norma's Valley, north-west of Boyertown. The sheriff

Merchants Plan
Discussion on Bus Route End

The executive committee of the Mercantile bureau will meet this morning to discuss the proposed termination of the Birdsboro to Pottstown bus line Saturday.

Vice Chairman C. J. Keiser said last night Chairman A. E. Willauer had scheduled the meeting in the Chamber's Security Trust building offices for 10 o'clock.

The committee is expected to consider the advisability of asking Walter L. Murphy, Knaertown, head of the Murphy Bus Lines, which has operated the route since World War II, not to discontinue the route.

Murphy said last night he would consider such a request. "If they can prove there's enough business I'll keep it running," he asserted. Murphy claimed he would need approximately "20 or 25 riders a trip" to make the route pay him.

THE OPERATOR added that he grosses only "$12 to $14" a day on the route. Out of his gross he pays his driver $12, he said. The route schedule currently calls for four round trips a day. There were seven trips a day until recently.

Murphy said there have been only "five or six short fares and one or two through fares" per trip in the past few months.

Willauer said last night, "Even

People Will Decide On Demo Tenure, Truman Declares

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—President Truman declared today it's up to the people to decide whether Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower is right in saying the Democrats have been in power too long.

He also told his weekly news conference that Republican assertions he is engaged in a "deviant plot" to get the Democratic presidential nomination for himself are the kind that usually originate in warped minds.

He disclosed he will attend the Democratic convention in Chicago after a nominee has been chosen. The reporters can be assured, he said, that the nominee will not be the present occupant of the White House. He added that he was neutral on the current crop of candidates.

But he wouldn't say whether his neutrality will last all the way through the convention or only until the convention. On that, the President said he is not making any statements about a time limit. He said he is a free-born American citizen and a delegate to the convention. He told a questioner to wait and see what develops.

UNDER A barrage of questions the President also said:

1. He doesn't intend to accept work, either in England or this country, as a men's clothing czar.
2. He does not contemplate sending a message to Congress on legislation for handling the steel strike. He wouldn't comment on the steel situation or say whether he planned to invoke the Taft-Hartley act to get the strikers back to work. Would he comment on the Supreme court decision holding his seizure of the industry unconstitutional? Never, he said.

Asked if he would elucidate on a comment made at a previous conference that nobody could take away his inherent powers under the Constitution, he said he would at a later date.

3. There is no political implication whatsoever in his acceptance of an invitation for a weekend at the Rhode Island farm of J. Howard McGrath June 14-15.

"because my generation hasn't done too much of a job on it, but I'm going to tell you what kind of people you should be."

Sliding into the theme of his speech, he told the graduates that "fences are of man's construction and horizons of God's invention."

He asserted, "Fences are the dominant characteristic of childhood and horizons are the dominant characteristic of adulthood."

He explained the fences as "the limits we impose" and the horizons "the limits God imposes."

"You'll have to use fences all your life," the speaker said. "When you choose your profession or career, you'll be building a fence around yourself. That fence will be the limits to which the graduate can go in his profession."

He warned the pupils against building "fences so high you can't see over them" and admonished them always to continue looking toward and striving for the horizon beyond the fences they build.

"THIS IS commencement, not the end, but the beginning," he emphasized, and urged the graduates to continue to supplement their education once they enter the business world.

He attacked the "egocentric people" who "build their fences too high." "Prejudice, bigotry and intolerance" are the materials for the "too high" fences, he said.

"The broader your horizon (in life) the greater you have to climb to get to the end," Brees claimed, then warned the graduates not to "grow bigger by pushing others down. Do it by pulling yourself up and then pulling others up with you."

Salutatorian Sally Lou Mayer emphasized the lack of security in the world in describing "The World-Youth Faces" and cited the rapidly with which social, political and industrial factors in the world change to create the problems the graduates will encounter.

"We, too, can face the rapid change of modern life," she said. "We can and will do no less."

VALEDICTORIAN SALLY E. Rhoads stated in her address on "Today's Challenge" that "challenges give life meaning."

"develop character" and "contribute to happiness." She urged her classmates to "make the most of your talents" and to "strive for maturity." "Good citizenship," she added, "is the major social challenge and it starts right here in Pottstown."

Supervising Principal Stanley I. Davenport Jr. presented the class to H. Bert Shaw, school board president, and Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of schools awarded the graduates their diplomas.

Because of an improved stage, this year was the first time individual diploma presentations have been possible. Previously the diplomas were distributed after the commencement exercises.

The Rev. Edward S. Horn, pastor of St. James Lutheran church, delivered the invocation and benediction and the school choir directed by Edward F. O'Neill, sang "Creation" and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Class President Robert Mallison extended the class farewell to school officials and faculty members and the school band played "Aladdin and the Princess," "Pomp and Circumstances" and the National Anthem.

J. O. HARTENSTINE Jr. agreed to secure chairs. The Pilot club will enforce regulations and rules. In the event of rain the show will be held on Aug. 25. A second rain date is Aug. 26.

The show will be staged by Cole Brothers famed air stuntmen. After their Pottstown appearance they will head for the state fair at Wisconsin.

A letter will be sent to borough council's airport committee requesting permission to stage the event.

Seawell reported the various committee heads will conduct individual meetings and then will report at subsequent general session on the progress of plans.

He said Richard Bomberger, who helped Lancaster stage a similar show several years ago, will be invited to address Minute

Men on the organization of the show in that city.

It was reported several hundred visiting aircraft will be invited to the airport on the dedication.

Seawell pointed out but the large four-motor type planes will be able to utilize the new airport facilities.

The Pilot club will handle most physical details for the show.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By LARRY DAVIS

VIRTUALLY all her life, Mrs. J. Robert Gray worked in the interest of someone else; and 21 years of that time were devoted to Pottstown. Since the day she arrived in Kenilworth in July 1931 as the bride of one of the community's young physicians, she has directed her energies toward civic betterment, particularly among the 'teen-agers of the area.

With all the patience and quiet courage that is mirrored in her dark eyes, this small, soft spoken woman has doggedly pursued a host of activities that would tax the strength of lesser persons. But her determination finds adequate explanation in the philosophy of life which has guided her ambition.

"I believe every parent should raise his children so as to instill a sense of worth and individuality. That is my burning ambition. Children should have an intelligent knowledge of the past and an appreciation of the present in order to make a contribution to the future."

Her own pattern of life has been integrated with the community about her to achieve this end. And the first phases of activity provide ample excuse for her merry recollection of them.

At the age of four, she was encouraged by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. B. Shearman, of Philadelphia, to take part in a church event. In a squeaky voice that reached across the footlights to the first row she sang "There's A Quaker Down In Quakertown." Those beyond the second row never heard the words. A year later, garbed in the costume of a Colonial dame, she boldly peddled chances on a doll in the expansive lobby of the sedate Bellevue Stratford Hotel. A woman's group got the profits.

Born the daughter of a Philadelphia investment banker, she was graduated from the Philadelphia High School for Girls and for two years attended Sweetbriar College in Virginia. For two more years she attended the Pennsylvania Museum School of Industrial Arts, studying costume design. It was at this time she met her future husband, a medical student at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy.

Until five years ago when the couple and their two children, Carolyn, 18, and J. Robert Jr., 15, occupied their present home at 222 Chestnut street, the family lived on Schuylkill road.

"What Pottstown needs most," she points out, "is a place suitable for the 'teen-agers to congregate. It must be more than just a place to dance; and it must be safe."

At the moment, she is a member of the Pottstown Safety council and probably will be asked to accept a job that will emphasize safety among the borough's adolescents. She has been active with many organizations including the Century club, the auxiliary of the Memorial hospital, the Pottstown hospital auxiliary, the American Red Cross, the Junior Service League, the Doe club; she was the first and only secretary for Town Hall and a member of the board for Community Concerts. For eight years she taught Sunday School at Christ Episcopal church.

In what moments she has left in her busy schedule, Mrs. Gray reads widely on history, political science and international affairs with particular emphasis on the culture and political development of the Far Eastern nations. A library of more than 300 volumes gives her adequate reference to the events of the world. She is a member—"not active, but I like to read their literature"—of the Eastern Montgomery County Council of Republican Women.

And to top it off, Mrs. Gray is a devotee of the Philadelphia Athletics. She has followed the team since her girlhood when she practically lived in Shibe park.

This week Carolyn graduated from North Coventry High with a planned future in a career of nursing. J. Robert Jr., who captained the Pottstown Junior High Safety Patrol and patrol Drill team, will be promoted to Senior High school. Both events are milestones in the active and never-dreary career of one of Pottstown's busiest mothers.

NEXT TO his wife and five grown children, the most important thing in the life of 62-year-old Guy L. Curchoe are his flowers. Besides providing him an income from a successful business, they have been inspirations to his every waking hour.

In a manner of speaking, as he looks about his shop and green-houses at 978 High street, he counts every potted plant, every fern, every bouquet a close friend.

Born in Italy, he was brought to the United States by his mother when he was a child, and from his earliest days he has worked hard to come up the ladder of success.

The Curchoe family settled first in Sullivan county where the father worked as a tanner, but hard times forced them to move to Williamsport where young Guy, just 13, went to work for 50 cents a 10-hour day in a foundry while the elder Curchoe tried to support a family of eight youngsters on a daily wage of $1.25.

From 1904 to 1914 the youth struggled as a machinist.

After he was married, on Jan. 4, 1914, he received an urgent invitation from a former superintendent to leave Williamsport and come to Pottstown where employment awaited him with the old Light Manufacturing company. Somewhat hesitantly, but with a feeling that he and his wife should grow with a growing community, he came here and settled.

Short, stocky, gray-haired and with a round, tanned face that defies his 62 years, Curchoe today recalls in vivid detail the events that led to his abandoning his trade as a machinist for the flowers that have played so important a part in his life.

He rented a South street home. In his hours away from his foreman's position, he began landscaping and cultivating the ground around the house.

"I whitewashed here, I fixed the gate, I built a hotbed and planted my flowers," he says with a twinkle of fond reminiscence in his dark eyes. "Then, when everything was looking beautiful, the owner decided to sell out."

But Curchoe had purchased three lots nearby, properties that had attracted his eye because of their slope and possibility for development.

Meanwhile, he was improving methods for his employer that brought tremendous savings in the shop. And he planted more flowers with his wife's help, just for the satisfaction that it brought him. Friends came and admired the display and went away with flowers for which they did not have to pay. If he could improve someone else's business, why not go in business for himself?

It was his own hope and Mrs. Curchoe's gentle persuasion that finally, in 1917, caused him to leave the shop and his foreman's wages for the gamble in flowers. But, somehow, when he devoted his full time to his venture, business just didn't go right.

He decided on a better location, along High street. So, for nearly eight years more, still struggling and doing landscaping to keep his head above water, he waited.

The opportunity came in 1927 when he scraped together all the cash he could and placed $500 down on the three lots at 976-78-80 High street.

Since then, the picture has improved. The man with the green thumb, who today still reads and writes with difficulty because he was denied an education in his youth, shares the work of the shop with his wife. It was she who patiently read aloud seed catalogues and the farm articles so that her husband could continue learning the secret of growing flowers.

Curchoe, who admits deeply that "I belong to God," has no favorites about him. He lavishes the same loving care upon his blooms many people give to pet canaries.

But in the intimacy of his home he thinks foremost of Mary, his wife; and of their children, Camilla, John, Anna, Angeline and Guy Jr., and a special warm memory is reserved for his second son, Albert.

Empire Fire Truck Will Get Rola-Ray

A $150 Rola-Ray light will be installed on the Empire Hook and Ladder company's 500-gallon pumper.

Purchase of the red flashing light was made possible when a check of $150 was presented the company by the Ladies auxiliary.

Twelve new members were elected at last night's meeting in the fire hall and three applications for membership were approved.

The annual festival will be held on Friday night, June 13, at the fire house. Entertainment will be provided.

A company clambake will be held on Sunday, June 22, in Yoder's grove.

Twenty-one members attended last night's meeting with President James Orr in the chair.

TEN FLEE JAIL

KINGSTON, Jamaica, June 5 (AP)—Ten prisoners stole the keys from a sleeping guard at the local jail today and escaped.

Police Guard Posted At Home of Candidate

ROSS, Calif., June 5 (AP)—A police guard was posted tonight at the home of wealthy Attorney Vincent Hallinan, progressive party candidate for president, after his wife reported a telephone call demanding $5000 on the threat of "a death in the family."

Hallinan is serving a six-months sentence in McNeil island Federal penitentiary for contempt as Harry Bridges' defense attorney at the Longshore leader's perjury trial.

U. S. to Ban Concessions On Hungarian Goods

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—President Truman today banned all American trade concessions on goods from Communist Hungary effective July 5.

His action was in line with a Congress-ordered denial of tariff and other trade concessions to all Communist and Communist-dominated areas.

Similar action has been ordered against the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria.

Teacher Resignation Accepted by Board

East Greenville school board last night accepted the resignation of Grace Nesbit, girls' high school physical education instructor for the past year.

Miss Nesbit resigned to take graduate work at the University of Pennsylvania.

Stanley M. Kurtz, supervising principal, reported school will be opened at the High school in October for persons who came to the United States in recent years.

Courses in citizenship and English will be included on the curriculum.

THE BOARD spent several hours discussing a tentative budget for 1952-53, but no decisions were made.

Because of the various jointure possibilities and because school districts around East Greenville haven't decided which way to move on jointure, the East Greenville board has been unable to adopt a budget.

The budget probably will be

Discovery of Leukemia In Cats Offers Hope

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Discovery that cats can have leukemia—a cancer-like disease of blood-forming organs—was reported today by Dr. Willard H. Eystone of the U. S. Public Health Service.

The National Cancer Institute researcher reported in the institute's journal he had found evidence of the disease in a seven-year-old male tabby.

"The discovery of true leukemia in this animal," said a health service announcement, "suggests that study of the disease in cats might result in knowledge which could be applied to leukemia in human beings."

ORDER HALTS PICKETING

MEADVILLE, June 5 (AP)—A court today halted picketing today at the national bearing division of the American Brake Shoe company plant in Meadville.

The picketing was adopted at the July or August meeting.

Optimist Club Sees Water Game Movies

Lights went out and the members of the Pottstown Optimist club at their meeting, in the Cloverleaf restaurant last night sat back and watched movies of water games and auto racing.

Elwood Angstadt, president of the club, operated the equipment which projected fancy diving scenes, stock car races and portions of the Indianapolis Speedway race.

With the food and movies out of the way, the Optimists resumed their regular business meeting and Angstadt named the committee for planning the installation of officers on the last Thursday of this month.

Appointed to serve on the committee are the Rev. John L. Smoker, pastor of Baltzell Evangelical United Brethren church, John Goldthread, B. R. Perkins, Elwood Angstadt and Roland T. Brauch.

It was announced last night that all the officers and the board of governors for the coming year are going to meet at the home of Leroy Keiser in Cedarville on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock.

REDS CRY 'STOOGES'

MOSCOW, June 5 (AP)—True, Soviet trade union newspaper, said today it does not make any difference who is nominated by the Democrats and Republicans in the United States—that both will be "stooges of the big monopolists."

New Commander

Rear Adm. Walter S. DeLany has been named Commander of Eastern Sea Frontier and Atlantic Reserve fleet with headquarters in New York.

The red color of California's redwoods is caused by chemicals in the woods which are not believed to exist in that combination any other place in nature.

Rattlesnake Shipment Gels Okay After Long Battle

MEXICO CITY, June 5 (AP)—The tropical health center at Vera Cruz will finally get those 20 rattlesnakes to make anti-venom. But it was quite a battle.

Snake hunters on the Pacific coast picked them up without trouble and packed them well. Then the railroads refused to haul them. So did the Post Office department. They pointed to the rule book. The local game warden refused to overrule them. Finally it got to cabinet level. The secretary of public health sent letters to the navy minister, who controls game wardens, and the shipment was okayed today.

House Gives Okay To Compromise Bill For Foreign Nations

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The House today quickly approved a compromise bill authorizing $6,447,730,750 in foreign military and economic aid over the 12-month period beginning July 1.

The vote was 230 to 115, with only scattered opposition appearing.

The measure now goes to the Senate where prompt approval is expected to clear it for President Truman's signature or veto.

Truman has threatened to hold Congress in session until next January, if necessary, to get the full $7,900,000,000 he originally requested.

A presidential veto was regarded unlikely, however, despite the fact that the measure authorizes 18.6 percent or $1,468,750,250 less than he asked.

WELL-INFORMED quarters said Truman will probably sign the bill, perhaps criticizing it as inadequate. He could, of course, send up a request later for supplemental funds.

The legislation represents a compromise worked out by Senate House conferees in settling conflicts between separate versions passed by the two chambers. It is merely an authorization, not an appropriation. Actual funds will have to be voted later.

The bill earmarks $4,598,424,300 for global military aid and $1,805,288,500 for economic assistance.

Europe is ticketed for the greater bulk of the money—$3,415,614,750 military and $1,282,433,000 economic—with the Near East, Asia and Latin America receiving the remainder.

Relief Funds Adequate For Short Steel Walkout

HARRISBURG, June 5 (AP)—State officials said today that Pennsylvania's relief and jobless pay funds can meet demands of a short steel strike, but a long one would place a severe strain on both funds.

The Commonwealth has available about 70 million dollars in Department of Public Assistance's regular appropriation for relief. The unemployment compensation fund totals more than 585 million dollars.

Both the State Bureau of Employment Security, which handles jobless benefits, and the Assistance department, which distributes direct relief, prepared for a rush of applications for aid.

RIEGNER HONORED —

name of Commissioner Donald McMillan, who is commanding officer of 11 Eastern States.

J. Russel Reifsnider, vice chairman of the advisory board, and chairman of the committee which planned last night's banquet, presided at last night's occasion in place of Chairman O. C. Beacraft.

HE CITED the many things which Riegner had done in Pottstown to better the position of the Salvation Army. The most impressive thing accomplished while Riegner was chairman of the board, he said, was the transition which took place in the quarters of the Army.

When Riegner first became chairman, the organization had several small rented quarters scattered throughout Pottstown, but gradually the quarters increased in size.

Today, the Salvation Army owns a modern structure at 137 King street.

An easy chair and a foot stool were presented to Riegner by a committee of the advisory board headed by John Stamm.

Assisting in the collection of funds for the gift was Dr. James A. Hallman.

the 30-day period given them which ended yesterday.

Hartenstine said last night he did not appeal the levy "because I knew it was constitutional." He added that the reason he had protested to the board was that "it's unfair to the youths. They can't afford to pay all those taxes."

He claimed the Federal and school board taxes on a $1.50 admission to the ballroom would amount to 45 cents. For two tickets a teen-age boy would have to pay $3.90, he said. The levy price also will affect prices at Sunnybrook's swimming pool.

Both Sunnybrook and Ringing Rocks will be hit by the levy on its effective date because the former's swimming pool and the latter's skating rink will be open that day.

Hartenstine said he has not been told how the taxes are to be paid to the school board.

School Board's Solicitor Carroll L. Rutter reported each amusement center owner will send the taxes they collect to the secretary of the school board monthly.

Any temporary amusement, such as a carnival, will be directed to remit its taxes after each night's business, he said.

Helicopter Plans Studied

Floyd J. Sisto, vice president and general manager of Jacobs Aircraft Engine company, studies plans of the new five-seater helicopter that the firm announced yesterday it will produce. The helicopter, a radically new, high-speed type, will be developed and assembled at Pottstown airport near Limerick, which has been acquired by a subsidiary of the engine company.

For civilian use, the spokesman said, it will be designed as "an ultra modern aerial taxicab, to be used between cities and airports."

Two Friends Switch Draft Cards, Names

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—A prosecutor charged today two friends switched identities so one previously rejected as a 4-F could join the Air Force and the other could stay home to raise enough money to get married.

Erwin Cohen, assistant U. S. attorney, identified the good friends as:

Richard Dean Phelan, 20, of Chicago, 1-A, who felt being in the Army would upset his wedding plans.

Robert Hybert, 22, of Chicago, 4-F, now serving in the Air Force at San Antonio, Tex.

Cohen said Hybert had been rejected previously for failing to pass his physical examination and that the two traded draft cards, social security numbers and names, when Phelan received his induction call. Phelan was classified 1-A the past January.

The prosecutor said Phelan planned to be married in August and wanted to remain out of service until after the wedding. Then, Cohen said Phelan told him, he planned to take another physical and enlist under Hybert's name.

"That way we will both be happy," Phelan was quoted as saying.

Cohen said Hybert will be interviewed at San Antonio before it is decided whether any action will be taken against him.

Phelan was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner C. S. Bentley on a charge of evading the draft. His case was continued to Friday.

ESCAPE TRY CITED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5 (AP)—The Peiping radio said today Frank Noel, veteran Associated Press photographer, once tried to escape from a North Korean prison camp and his attempt "was regarded leniently by the Chinese."

It has been estimated that the European corn borer destroyed about 35 million bushels of corn in the United States in 1951.

to cope with it.

Steelman declined to make any prediction as to when a settlement might be reached, although he confirmed that he had talked with McFarland. "I sort of brought him up to date," he said.

He said there had been no discussion of steel price boosts which the Government might approve for the industry to offset, at least in part, any wage concessions to the union.

"If they get a settlement," Steelman said, "of course we'll discuss the price situation, but not before then."

The negotiators themselves withheld comment, except to note that the talks were still in progress.

Fast-Talking Man Drives Car Away

A 1947 two-door sedan valued at $895, was stolen from the Keiser Chevrolet used car lot at 1560 East High street at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon by a fast-talking man who had been inspecting the car earlier in the morning.

Earl J. Keiser, who manages the lot, reported to police the man, about 22 years old, had looked at several cars before noon, then left the lot.

Keiser said when he left the lot for lunch, the thief returned and told an attendant that Keiser had said it was all right for him to drive the car home and show it to his wife and the attendant gave the man the keys to the car.

Neither the car nor the driver have been seen since.

Keiser said the thief answered to the name of "Unk" and was about 5 feet 10 inches tall and weighed about 155 pounds. He had dark hair and wore a striped 1809 and published the "Origin of sweater or 'T' shirt, Keiser said. Species" in 1859.

Keiser remarked, "Certainly any means of bringing people into town should be continued. I think we should do something about it."

Murphy blamed the increasing ownership of automobiles for the decline in the number of riders on the Birdsboro' to Pottstown bus.

The route was begun during World War II primarily to transport workers from Chester and Berks county points to Pottstown plants.

Citation and Chair Awarded for Service

Irvin Riegner admires the framed citation presented to him by Lieut.-Col. John Grace, standing behind him, for his 30 years of hard work as chairman of the advisory board of the Salvation Army in Pottstown. The award makes Riegner a life member of the advisory board, an honor rarely bestowed on any individual for Salvation Army work. Standing beside Riegner is Senior Captain Meral E. Cox whose face registers his approval of the award. In the rear is John Stamm, chairman of the committee which raised funds to purchase the easy chair and foot stool which Riegner fits into so comfortably. (Story on Page 1).

Sixth Grade Pupils Take Look Around Junior High School

Sixth grade pupils from seven elementary schools learned what awaits them at Pottstown Junior High school next semester during an orientation program at the school yesterday afternoon.

Graduating pupils from the Franklin, Jefferson, Lincoln, Rupert, St. Clair, Washington and Lower Pottsgrove schools listened to brief talks on the Junior High curriculum, and then were escorted through the building.

The visiting children and their instructors were welcomed by Principal William D. Mower, Assistant Principal Helen V. Purnell and William A. James Jr., guidance counselor.

An outline of the activities of the Junior High student council, patrol, assemblies, clubs, athletics and band was presented by Robert March, William Schmeier, Louise Levendood, Judy Noble, Edmund Sobresky and Melvin Endy.

THE ELEMENTARY pupils then went to classrooms, where various teachers explained the Junior High curriculum, homeroom activities, and handed out lists of clubs available next term.

The visitors then toured the building, inspecting the cooking and sewing rooms, shops, cafeteria, library, gym and classrooms.

The purpose of the program was to have the future freshmen become acquainted with the school and its activities so they can make a better adjustment at the start of the Junior High school year.

Senate Beals Down Series of GOP Moves To Suspend or Curb Government Controls

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — The Senate today slapped down a series of Republican-led moves to suspend or curb Federal controls over the nation's economy.

In a hot and continuing fight over an extension of the Government's check-rein on such things as wages, prices, rents and materials, the chamber:

1. Rejected 54 to 27 an amendment by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) seeking to suspend all price controls next Sept. 1 unless the President should find that individual items were scarce or threatened to cause inflation.

2. Beat down, 46 to 29, an amendment by Sen. Cain (R-Wash.) to give veto power to local city councils over any Federal decision to restore rent controls to a previously decontrolled community.

Chairman Maybank (D-SC) of the Senate Banking committee said it would "kill price controls."

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), defending Dirksen's proposal, said it would help businessmen by eliminating a lot of bookkeeping and other records.

Asked by Sen. Ives (R-NY) how price controls could be suspended and wage controls kept in force, Dirksen said that if the Senate suspended one he would move to suspend the other.

Cain told the Senate his amendment on rent controls would bar Federal reconrol of rents in a city unless the local governing body had passed a resolution of agreement after a public hearing.

Antique Parade Of Cars Will Be Biggest Known

Even if no more entries are made in the coming parade of collectors' items in the automobile industry, the parade on June 14, sponsored by the Antique Automobile club of America in commemoration of Pottstown's Bicentennial celebration, will be the largest showing of vehicles of its kind on record.

As of yesterday there were more than 200 entrants slated to drive their buggies through the streets of the borough, about 50 more cars than any of the largest caravans of the relics ever assembled.

The largest single group entry so far was made yesterday by the Red Rose Antique Auto club of Lancaster county which will enter 28 of the antique vehicles in the parade.

A group prize will be given for the club sending the most autos and by all indications it appears as though the Red Rose club might maintain their lead, it was reported.

The five entrances to Pottstown will be guarded by members of the Pottstown Junior Chamber of Commerce attired in the costumes of the fliver drivers of days gone by.

The Jaycees will escort the contestants by jeeps to the Hill School where accommodations have been made for more than 300 persons to stay on Friday and Saturday nights, June 13 and 14.

Red Defenders Fight Off Raiding Party on East Korean Front

SEOUL, Friday, June 6 (AP)—Aggressive Red Korean defenders fought off an Allied raiding party yesterday with a hail of grenade, mortar and artillery fire from their perch atop an eastern front ridge.

The Eighth Army said the Reds, possibly 300 strong, inflicted casualties on the withdrawing Allies with 650 damaging rounds of artillery and mortar fire.

The barrage followed a seven minute close-quarters fight on the ridge northeast of the Punchbowl.

Allied troops in the nearby Satao valley area repulsed two Communist patrol probes last night.

Allied defenders hurling hand grenades put to flight two Chinese squads early today near the Panmunjom neutral zone in the West.

FIFTH AIR FORCE light bombers pounded Communist rolling stock last night and early today in three key North Korean areas. Pilots reported damaging two locomotives, six boxcars, and 45 supply vehicles in northwest Korea.

Other B-6 pilots claimed destruction of 30 vehicles south of the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang.

"We caught them by surprise; most of their headlights were still on," said Lt. Edward Horsemann, Los Angeles. "By the time the Reds had blackened out their trucks our fire bombs were giving us plenty of light to continue the attack."

Carrier planes from the Princeton and Valley Forge reported 95 rail cuts and destruction of four locomotives in northeast Korea. Allied warships pounded Red coastal strongpoints.

Sea Furies and Fireflies from the British carrier Ocean raided Red trenches and bunkers along the western front and hit supply lines in the rear.

Potato Shipment Barred From Unloading in N. Y.

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The Agriculture department today prevented the unloading of 6000 bags of Spanish potatoes at New York because they were found infested with the golden nematode, a plant pest.

Further imports of potatoes from Spain will be barred, an Agriculture department official said, unless Spanish officials can convince the department the shipments come from areas free of the nematode.

STRIKE EFFECTS —

operations are slowed"

HE POINTED out although the company uses steel in all its finished products, it should not suffer for at least a month.

Howard Bartholomew, plan manager of the Doehler-Jarvis corporation, reported "the strike can effect us only in a secondary way. We use steel only in dies and tools, and things will have to get pretty bad all over the country before we'll be affected."

The Doehler plant employs 2000 workers.

A spokesman of the Reading company last night pointed out the strike is having immediate effects on the railroad industry.

He reported freight runs from the Rutherford yard, Harrisburg to Philadelphia, were canceled Tuesday and Wednesday nights because of lack of tonnage. Also a run was canceled from the yard to Bethlehem for the same reason.

ELEVEN HUNDRED workers of the Reading company shop, St. Clair, Schuylkill county, will be idled Monday because of the steel strike.

A company spokesman said no train crews will be idled at present, but if the strike continues, many employees will be without work.

Even after the strike is settled it will require a few days or a week before railroad freight reaches normalcy.

BOY HURT —

Fire company ambulance of Royersford arrived.

First on the scene was Dr. John Maron, Royersford, who directed the boy be sent to the hospital immediately.

The children had turned off a dirt road which intersects Major Hollow road and were just a few feet from the intersection and about a half mile from the point where Major Hollow road intersects Lewis road when the accident occurred at 5:30 o'clock.

The father, an employee of the Jones Motor company, Spring City, was informed of his son's accident when he returned from a delivery at 6 o'clock. He drove immediately to the hospital.

Only the front fender and pedal of the bicycle were damaged. Rega was driving a 1947, 2-door sedan. Jeffersonville State police investigated.

The court sentenced Bolognese to no less than one month and not more than 23 months in Berks county prison on the burglary charge.

In view of the fact that Bolognese had completed a three-year sentence at Luzerne county prison, Wilkes-Barre, on May 3, and had been awaiting trial for the burglary charge for the past month in Berks county prison, the court released him on parole.

The court, composed of President Judge H. Robert Mays, Judge Warren K. Hess and Judge Forest R. Shanahan, also considered Bolognese's honorable discharge from the Army after six years in the service.

Conferees Agree to Raise Aid for State Highways

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—House and Senate negotiators agreed today to increase Federal aid to states for highways.

The conferees decided upon 550 million dollars for each of the two fiscal years starting July 1, 1953 and July 1, 1954. This is the amount carried in a bill passed by the House. The Senate cut the figure to 500 million, the same as for the fiscal year starting July 1.

arose out of the fatal injuries to John F. Ruth, of Stouchburg, and William D. Hassler, of Richland RD 1.

Two other Hassler boys, Richard, 18, and Martin, 11, and Gene Brightbill, all of Richland RD 1, suffered injuries when Yancik's heavy truck struck and demolished a tractor-drawn hat flat on which they were riding.

Attorneys for the Ruth and Hassler families told the court that their clients were not seeking imprisonment of Yancik since satisfactory settlements had already been made.

Attorney James W. Stoudt, representing Yancik, pointed out the defendant's previous

"I feel," said President Judge Mays, "that the ends of justice can still be served by giving this man a break." The court noted that Yancik "should be thankful" for the leniency requested by the families of the victims.

The court deferred sentence pending further investigation of Charles E. Blanchard, 20, of Birdsboro RD 2, who pleaded guilty to charges of burglary, larceny and operating a motor vehicle without the consent of the owner.

The court gave Blanchard an opportunity to reconsider his plea after noting that the young defendant was without counsel. Attorney James W. Stoudt was appointed by the court to offer legal assistance.

Equal Time Asked By Taft for Speeches

Washington, June 5 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, of Ohio, today asked the Federal Government to intervene for him in his efforts to get equal radio and television time with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Taft told the Federal Communications Commission three networks have turned down his request for the same amount of time, free of charge, that they gave Eisenhower for his Abilene, Kans., speech last night.

The Ohio senator and Eisenhower are leading contenders for the Republican presidential nomination.

The networks named by Taft in a personal letter to the FCC are the National Broadcasting company, Columbia Broadcasting System and American Broadcasting company.

Senator Kefauver, of Tennessee, seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, has similarly protested CBS's refusal to give him the same amount of time it gave Eisenhower.

World Peace, Security Named By Ike as Main Campaign Issue

ABILENE, Kas., June 5 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower broadened his free-swinging fight for the Republican presidential nomination today by revealing his views on everything from civil rights to his boyhood dreams. He named the campaign issue as world peace and security.

Never refusing an answer to any of the controversial questions fired at him during his first major out-of-uniform news conference, Eisenhower gave his reply to the pun, "I like Ike—but what does Ike like?"

At the end of 43 minutes of rapid-fire questions and answers, the retired general had let the Nation know where he stands on and astonishingly wide range of subjects including politics, foreign affairs, labor, agriculture, civil rights, socialized medicine and many others. It was a follow-up to his speech yesterday in which he said the Democrats had been in office too long.

Completely at ease, Eisenhower strode to the stage of a little theater in this old-west town to face scores of reporters who came here from all parts of the Nation—many representing the foreign press—to find out the general's views.

A FEW HOURS later, Senator Frank Carlson (R-Kas.), an Eisenhower booster, claimed Eisenhower's speech and news conference had shifted nationwide sentiment toward the general in his race against Senator Taft of Ohio. Carlson claimed some GOP convention delegates who were pledged to Taft had decided to line up with Eisenhower. He declined to identify them or to say how many there might be. Carlson said Eisenhower had talked to 70 midwestern delegates and 21 alternates in the past two days.

Eisenhower had interviews with delegations from Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Carlson said the delegations that came to see Eisenhower in Abilene did not have their expenses paid either by the Washington or New York headquarters of the general's organization.

EISENHOWER told the reporters and a nationwide radio and television audience.

1. The great issue of the campaign is peace and security in the world.
2. He thinks the states should handle the problem of fair employment practices rather than the Federal Government.
3. He believes everyone is entitled to decent medical care—but he's against socialization in medicine.
4. He is against legislation that would compel people to work and believes a way must be found to preserve labor's social gains in a climate of understanding between all groups.
5. He believes in wage-price controls in war time, but in the long run has more faith in the normal influences of supply and demand than in any direct controls by Government.
6. He is in general accord with the principals of the Republican policy statement of Feb. 6, 1950, but certain specific details were a little different from what he would say.
7. The Government needs a complete overhaul by someone who has not been obligated in the build-up during the past 20 years.
8. He believes if the United States permits Western Europe to fall to Communism, the cost to America will be back-breaking and this Nation will be in mortal danger.
9. He has no political ties with the Democratic Administration NBC television show was seven minutes late getting started due to a hard-hitting campaign against the Democrats.
10. He is in the campaign "with heart and soul" to win if possible.
11. Because of the enemy buildup across the Yalu river, he does not believe the Allies can win victory on the ground in Korea. He thinks the Allies must stand firm and try to get a decent armistice.
12. He believes the Democrats as the party in power must take some responsibility for the loss of China to the Communists, which he called an "international disaster of the first magnitude."
13. He believes it would be dangerous to extend the Korean war until the Allies have a bigger buildup of military force.
14. He favors rooting Communists out of Government but believes it can be done without smearing the innocent.
15. Aid to education should be a local function—and Federal aid should be given only in areas which are unable to give their children an adequate education.
16. He believes soil conservation programs should be controlled locally as far as possible, and as for price supports—"We must make certain that (farmers) never suffer disaster due to natural causes and things which they cannot foresee."
17. As a boy, his dreams hadn't been about the presidency but whether he should be a baseball player or a railroad conductor.

IN THIS sweeping range of subjects, Eisenhower stripped away much of the mystery that surrounded his views while he still wore the five-starred uniform of the supreme commander of Allied forces in Europe.

The news conference was carried to millions of television screens across the Nation after an all-night battle over whether there should be a "live" telecast.

It was a touch-and-go dispute which finally was resolved in favor of the telecast just a short time before the general began his conference at 11 a. m., (Pottstown time) in a theater.

Robert Mullen, of New York, press secretary for Eisenhower, said a decision against a "live" telecast—later changed—was made after protests came from members of the White House Correspondents' association. Eisenhower told reporters he had nothing to do with the technical arrangements.

This argument did not delay the news conference although the Democratic Administration NBC television show was seven minutes late getting started due to the confusion.

Eisenhower began the conference by asserting his faith in the principles of Republicanism laid down by party members two years ago and by denying he ever had voted the Democratic ticket.

Then a reporter asked how the Korean war could be brought to a successful close.

"I do not have any prescription for bringing the thing to a decisive end," Eisenhower said.

4 Rotarians Make Convention Report

Four Pottstown Rotarians last night reported to fellow delegates on the international convention held in Mexico City.

Charles S. Nagle, Walter F. Heise, Andrew E. Vaughan and Dr. Harold C. Baumann reported on the cross-the-border session.

The Rev. Lester K. Kriebel, pastor of Palm Schwenkfelder church, and curator of the Schwenkfelder museum, Pennsburg, spoke on the work of collecting items for the museum.

Speaking on the topic "Hidden Treasures" he said piles of junk and musty corners of attics often contain valuable material for the museum.

Kriebel was introduced by Karl Schumacher, chairman of the program committee.

Two new members were admitted at the session in the Elks' home. President Willard L. Kline was in charge. Sixty-seven members were present.

Price Rules Ended On White Potatoes

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The Government took price controls off white potatoes today, just five months after imposing them, and some officials predicted a sharp if short-lived price increase for the scarce food item.

Director Ellis Arnall of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) didn't speculate at a news conference about what would happen to prices, saying only "that will be interesting to watch."

However, other officials noted that potatoes have been almost impossible to buy in retail stores in many areas. They guessed there would be a sharp price increase, probably leveling off late this month and in July when the 1952 crop begins coming to market in considerable volume.

Arnall said ceilings were taken off potato prices because the Senate had voted to do so, effective July 1, and that it would be impossible to enforce controls while the issue was being threshed out in Congress.

SINCE THE Senate has voted to take ceilings off, Arnall said, growers would tend to withhold their stocks from the market in the expectation that controls would go off and prices increase within a month.

In effect, the Administration was washing its hands of any price increases that might occur, and seeking to put the responsibility on Congress.

The Senate voted yesterday to discontinue price controls over fresh fruits and vegetables in an extension of the Economic Controls law beyond June 30, when it is due to expire. The only food item which would be affected is white potatoes.

The House has not yet acted on the question, but Arnall said OPS, in removing the ceilings, was "bowing to the expression of the Senate."

Arnall was asked what OPS will do if the House balks at the amendment by Senator Holland (D-Fla.), to remove fresh fruits and vegetables from price controls.

"We still feel we ought to have that power to control," Arnall replied. "We will have to cross that bridge when we get to it, if the House does not go along with the Senate on the Holland amendment. I feel our action is consonant with the U. S. Senate action yesterday."

OPS ISSUED its white potato price control order on Jan. 5, after prices had just about doubled from levels of the previous September. The ceilings actually became effective on Jan. 20.

The order has been under constant fire from growers' organizations and many members of Congress from potato growing states. Present shortages have been blamed on the price controls, which some growers said forced spuds into black markets.

Arnall and some Department of Agriculture officials, on the

the other hand, have said there would have been a shortage anyway because the 1951 crop was down about 25 percent from that of the previous year. After long years of costly price support operations, in which tons of potatoes were dumped or fed to livestock, price props were removed on the 1951 crop.

The acreage planted to potatoes fell sharply, and the short 1951 crop resulted. The Agriculture department has not yet made any forecast of the size of the 1952 crop, but its survey of planting intentions indicated that farmers this year would plant an even smaller acreage than in 1951.

THAT POINTED to the possibility of another shortage a year from now. Today's OPS action is not likely to have any material effect on planting plans, since the 1952 crop is virtually all in the ground.

In any event, the current crop normally starts coming to market in big volume in late June and early July, so that officials look for an easing of the spud shortage in the near future, and possibly for some slight price drop.

C. W. Kitchen, executive vice president of the United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable association, said the OPS action should end a black market in white potatoes.

AEC Ends Tests

LAS VEGAS, Nev., June 5 (AP)—The AEC closed out its Spring series of atomic tests on the desert near here today with a tower blast which lit the pre-dawn sky a bright orange.

The resulting jolt was felt nearly 300 miles away in California's capital of Sacramento—apparently by the same sort of freak atmospheric which rattled windows in Los Angeles in the preceding tests.

Around the Nation

Draft Quota Set

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The Army today called for a draft of 29,000 men in August, a drop of 2000 under the July quota.

The August figure will raise to 383,430 the number of men Selective Service has been called upon to deliver since the draft was revived in September, 1950. Of that total, the Army asked for 902,000 and the Marines 81,430.

The Navy and the Air Force have been relying exclusively on volunteers and recall of reserves.

Gen. Grow to Go Before Court-Martial For Letting Communist Spies Filch Diary

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The investigation and found that a trial was warranted.

Gen. Robert W. Grow, author of a diary filched by Red spies and used Moscow. While he was on a visit for propaganda purposes, will stand trial before a court-martial of eight high-ranking generals.

The trial will be held behind closed doors at Fort Meade, Md. The date was not disclosed.

On April 28 the Army announced it was investigating charges that Grow (1) Improperly reported secret military information in private records and (2) Failed to safeguard secret information. The Army said today it had completed this

RUSSIAN propagandists used excerpts to bolster their war-mongering charges against the United States. Published quotations attributed to Grow had him advocating "War! As soon as possible! Now!"

If convicted of the court-martial charges, the 57-year-old general could face a maximum penalty of 5 years confinement, dismissal from the Army, and forfeiture of pay and allowances. However, a much less severe penalty also could be imposed.

Grow is a much decorated veteran of both world wars. The Army said the court martial will not be open to the public because security aspects require secrecy.

Payroll Bill Signed

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—On a special delivery schedule, Congress approved and President Truman signed today a $971,342,641 appropriation bill containing funds to meet the overdue payroll of half a million postal workers.

About half of the money in the bill is to pay the postal employees for work done the past month, for which they ordinarily would have received checks June 1. The regular payroll appropriation was used up early because of a general pay raise for the employees.

New GI Bill Wins Approval in House By Vote of 361 to 1

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—A new GI Bill of Rights for men discharged from the armed forces since the start of fighting in Korea was passed by the House today. A 361 to 1 roll call vote sent it to the Senate.

It would provide education benefits for all armed forces personnel who were in the armed forces on or after June 27, 1950, whether they served in the Korean theater or not.

Generally, the measure is the same as the GI Bill of Rights for World War II veterans. One change, which sponsors said would eliminate many abuses of that program, calls for Government payments direct to the veterans of all tuition fees and costs of books and other education expenses, as well as their personal subsistence payments.

Under the old program, the Government has been paying subsistence directly but making tuition payments to the schools attended by the veterans.

THE MEASURE came to the House floor for debate on Monday under procedure calling for only 40 minutes' discussion and passage or rejection without amendment. The roll call was put off until today.

Rep. Springer (R-Ill.) had protested against the provision calling for direct payments to the veterans instead of the schools, and others who supported his position expressed hope that the Senate would knock it out.

The education provisions call for maximum monthly payments of $110 to qualified veterans without dependents. Those with dependents would get up to $150 a month. Scaled-down grants are allowed for veterans who take only part-time schooling or on-the-job training.

Benefits would be given on the basis of 1½ days of training for each day of service since June 27, 1950, with a maximum service credit of 36 months.

The bill would also extend home and business loan guarantees, social security credits and mustering-out pay for the new batch of veterans.

Russia Demands U. S. Payment On Telephone Lines to Berlin

BERLIN, June 5 (AP)—Russia fact and paying its extremely high rates or risking summary stoppage of official headline communications.

However, the Western powers, apprehensive since the 1948-49 blockade, have constructed large radio-telephone and radio-teletype transmitters here for just such an emergency.

The Soviet-controlled news agency ADN said the Soviet letter "pointed out the urgency of paying the bills for using the long-distance cable, Berlin-Frankfurt, which has been at the Americans' disposal since 1945."

"THE AUTHORITIES of the German Democratic Republic have repeatedly requested payment since the maintenance and usage of the cable entails great costs. The American authorities, however, have refused as yet to meet these bills," the letter said.

The Soviet-backed demand obviously sets a pattern for further Soviet claims that all three Western powers here are liable to heavy charges for East German roads, railways and even air corridors.

The plot and 14 of the vessel's crew were killed. Only one British crewman survived. Severely burned and blown from his bunk by an explosion, he was picked up by Dutch fishermen. The body of one man, burned beyond recognition, was recovered.

World News Briefs

Man to Study Depths

TRIESTE, Free Territory, June 5 (AP)—Prof. Auguste Piccard said today his new bathysphere will be ready before the end of the year to explore the depths of the Tyrrhenian sea.

Prof. Piccard told a news conference his future experiments off the island of Ponza will be made with the co-operation of the Italian Navy.

His bathysphere, designed by himself, will sustain pressure of 9000 kilograms per square centimeter. It is now being cast in a steel works.

Piccard said he wants to go down 4000 meters (13,128 feet) in the sea to study zoological, geological and physics effects.

Vessels Collide

HALIFAX, N. S., June 5 (AP)—The 19,930-ton Cunard liner Scythia collided with the Collier Wabana in the foggy St. Lawrence estuary today and one man was reported missing.

Marine radio reported the Collier lost a propeller in the non-day accident but was taking no water.

Compromise Hinted

PUSAN, Korea, Friday, June 6 (AP)—Government sources talked today of a compromise between President Syngman Rhee and the Korean National Assembly as possibilities faded that he might dissolve the Assembly.

A competent source said Thursday Rhee had assured President Truman in a note that he would disband the Assembly only as a last resort.

Review of Speech Given For PTA of New Hanover

A review of the talk she gave before the Governor's committee at Ursinus college recently, investigating needs of dependent and neglected children, was given at a recent meeting of the New Hanover Township Parent-Teacher association by one of the members, Mrs. Alan Lysinger.

She reported that in her area, Upper Montgomery county, there were eight families in which children were suffering because of negligence, indifference or ignorance on the part of their parents.

How few children today know them?"

MRS. LYSINGER said that the second solution is remedial. "Make it a crime to neglect one's children. Place the parents in workhomes and make them work to support their children in foster homes or institutions," she continued.

Her third solution was to consider sterilization where negligent parents continue to breed and produce large families, which they will not support.

"I BELIEVE there are several possible solutions to this whole problem," she said. "The first is preventive. Our educational system prepares children for every career except marriage. This is the home's responsibility, but the home has failed, so the school must take over. The church works here, but those who need help most are outside the direct influence of the church."

She suggested that a regular program for family living be started in Tenth grade, where an hour a week is spent on discussions by various competent leaders in their fields—budget and finance, children in the home, repairing electric cords or sticky doors, etc. personality adjustments, leisure time activities, social diseases and evils, family co-operation, health, mental outlooks and marital relations and responsibilities.

"Our youth read the 'confession' type of story, so why not plan studies of family problems in the school with some Sunday school type literature," she said. "Study the ten Commandments and dainty.

For Good Complexion Use 3-Point Program, Diet, Rest, Exercise

Beauty is really only skin deep, but every woman wants a beautiful complexion. Some skins are naturally more difficult than others, but there is a simple three point program that can greatly improve a faulty complexion.

Diet, rest and exercise are the basic requirements for a clear skin. These three points must be adhered to in order to put the body in healthful shape before a skin problem can be cleared up. A word of caution, though, one should not embark on this program unless she intends to stick to it. Just following it when she feels it will be of doubtful benefit.

The diet is simple and healthy. She should cut out sweets and soft drinks and avoid eating too many fats and starchy foods. Eating quantities of fresh fruits and vegetables and drinking lots of water is important.

Rest is also of great importance to complexion care because it helps the skin heal faster. Eight or nine hours of sleep a night are necessary if one is serious about clearing up complexion trouble. Getting off schedule or skipping a few nights will delay the complexion recovery.

This sleep should be attained on a good quality sleep foundation or the restful benefits will be lessened. Poor quality bedding does nothing to correct fatigue for it does not provide the foundation so necessary for complete rest. A good quality mattress on a buoyant bed-spring will provide the level, resilient foundation which will provide the most benefit from the hours spent in bed.

Exercise is the third point in this program, and exercise in the fresh air is fun as well as beneficial to one's health and complexion. Tennis, riding and swimming are all good outdoor sports for they help stimulate the circulation of the blood.

Advice to the Lovelorn

Planning to Adopt Child

It's a well-known fact that there are many more people who would like to adopt children than there are children to go around. This situation is brought home to me every time I print in this column a letter from an unmarried girl who is about to have a child. For this invariably brings hosts of other letters from women who plead with me to put them in touch with the girl, in the hope that she might be persuaded to promise her unborn child to this one or that one.

To all such requests I always have to give the same answer, which is that it is never possible for me to make any such arrangement. There are strict laws dealing with the adoption of children, and while it may seem as though it should be perfectly simple to bring together a girl who is going to have a baby she doesn't want and a woman who is eager for any baby, it is not legally permissible for anyone outside an authorized agency to do this.

THE ONLY proper way to go about adopting a child is to obtain the names and addresses of such authorized agencies and put in an application to the nearest one of them. From there on the agency takes over.

All this is by way of introduction to a set of two slim volumes which those who have been fortunate enough to find babies to adopt, and those who expect that good fortune to come to them some day soon, should go out to the nearest bookstore and buy for themselves. Packaged together, the twin books deal respectively with this matter of adoption from the viewpoint of both the adoptive parents and the adopted child.

Both books are charmingly put together. Book One, for the parents, called "You and Your Child," has to do with every problem that confronts a couple, about to adopt a baby. Lest prospective adoptive parents might think that once they have found a ready-made son or daughter, there is nothing more to do but take it home and go on from there, the book begins with considerable valuable material on how to prepare for adoptive parenthood which, the authors of the book say, should be done "just as any other couple does in the period of waiting for their child."

For, they point out, "No parent automatically knows the details of caring for a child, what to expect in his development, or how to handle the various emergencies that can arise in daily living. All parents, biological and adoptive, must learn how to do the parent's daily job." Then follow specific suggestions that should clarify many questions which may—and

Senior auxiliary members of the Pottstown hospital have recruited their husbands for aid in carpentry work for the Bicentennial bazaar to be held June 18 on the hospital grounds. Practically every night the group has been working on painting and carpentry chores, with the aid of three other branches of the auxiliary, to make props for the affair. Junior auxiliary members also are helping with the work, while members of the Deb-Aide and Teen-Aide auxiliaries are helping to make other portions of the huge show a success. Pictured hard at work are (left to right), Mr. Carl M. Binder, Mrs. H. Melvin Gingrich, Mr. Jesse Hafer Jr., Mrs. Harold Binder and Mr. Harold Binder.

Youth Group Picked By Denomination for Activity Filmstrip

A group of photographers and officials of the Youth department of the Evangelical and Reformed church will be in Spring City tomorrow, to take pictures of the Young People's group of Spring City Evangelical and Reformed church for a filmstrip.

The local group was honored the past week when it was selected as the group to appear in a colored filmstrip depicting an activity of the young people of the denomination.

The Spring City young people were selected by the Youth department for the very fine manner in which they carried on their "Workday for Christ" project the past November.

At that time the group of 38 young people gave a day's work on projects of Christian Science throughout the world. The money which they earned by doing various jobs was turned over to the Youth department, to be used in service of which the Rev. Garnet O. Adams, minister, is the adviser.

On a Saturday in November they did such jobs as raking leaves, housecleaning, washing windows, baby sitting, cleaning garages, putting on storm windows and running errands.

Tomorrow the photographers will take pictures of them performing such jobs, as well as planning and conducting the entire "Workday for Christ" project.

The filmstrip, when completed, will be released for distribution and showing throughout the nation.

Miss Sarah Jane Bearde is president of the Young People's group, of which the Rev. Garnet O. Adams, minister, is the adviser.

South Dakota Voters Await Official Canvass

STOUX FALLS, S. D., June 3.—An official canvass by county auditors Saturday will determine whether Sen. Robert A. Taft or Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower won South Dakota's 14 Republican national convention delegates.

supporters refused to concede a thing. They said they'd wait for the canvass.

U. S. Spending Is Cited In Foreign Health Talk

ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 5 (AP)—Americans spend $235 a ton for soft drinks, $350 a ton for beer and $7200 a ton for whisky. But in some countries not even 6 cents a ton is spent for safe drinking water.

Dr. Herbert L. Mantz, public health official of Kansas City, presented the statistics today in urging foreign health aid to protect America from "imported tuberculosis."

Unbeaten Flagg Tops MOP, 6-3, Stays in CIL Second

Flagg came back to the City-Industrial league last night after two weeks of rain-enforced idleness to combine Bobby Millard's strong clutch pitching, six timely knocks and an exhibition of slambang baserunning for a 6-3 win over the Merchants at Franklin field.

For the hit-and-run conscious Flaggmen it was the second win in as many decisions and kept them camped on the heels of the first place Elks (4-0). The Montgomery Lodge goes after the Amvets tonight in a key scrap.

Millard surrendered only six blows and kept them scattered. He struck out seven and used his wiffls in the right places in winning his first start of the year.

Carl Levensgood went the distance and took his second loss for the Merchants (1-4). He gave up a similar six hits, but was victimized by a balk and a steal of home that broke open the game in the fourth frame.

DON BOUGHTER'S timely double to right in the second inning sparked a three-run MOP burst and gave the Merchants, a 3-1 lead. But that melted when busi-ness went sour for Levensgood in the fourth and Flagg bagged a matching three runs.

The victors salted the game away in the sixth with a two-run but one opportune hit. Barry Kesler and Jenschke boarded on a walk and error respectively and were bunted along by Hal Bauer. Wayne Query hit to second base and Lou Millard elected to play for Kessler, who had wandered off third. Millard, however, threw behind the runner and Kessler streaked for home. Harv Sheetz cutoff throw was on target, but it hit Kessler in the back and veered away.

Query, meanwhile moved to second and Jenschke to third, whence both counted when, after Leon Rogosky whiffed and Levensgood walked, Boughter lofted a double to right centerfield.

MOP never really threatened thereafter as Millard surrendered

Jersey Joe Decisions Charles

Jersey Joe Walcott, heavyweight champion, lands a hard right to the head of Ezzard Charles in title fight at Philadelphia's Municipal Stadium last night. Joe landed enough of them to win unanimous decision.

WALCOTT EARNS UNANIMOUS NOD, KEEPS HEAVY CROWN

PHILADELPHIA, June 5 (AP)—Jersey Joe Walcott, 38-year-old cinderella man of the ring, clung to his world heavyweight boxing title tonight by winning a unanimous decision over ex-champ Ezzard Charles.

Proving once more that old champs never come back, the incredible old father of six kids from Camden shook off bombing shots by Charles to grab the votes of all three officials in a slow fight at Municipal Stadium.

Referee Zach Clayton, who repeatedly warned Charles for low blows in the third, fifth and 13th margin, 9-6. Judge Buck McTierman, who refereed the Pittsburgh match last July when Walcott knocked out Charles to win the title on the fifth try, had it for Walcott 8-7. Judge Pete Tomasco scored it for Walcott 7-6-2.

The Associated Press card had Charles a 7-6-2 winner.

There was considerable disagreement at ringside among the working press at the close-cut verdict.

THIS WAS a dull fight in contrast to the thriller last July 18 at Forbes Field when underdog Walcott won boxing's richest prize with a clean cut knockout. There were no knockdowns in the closely fought contest although both men were wobbled with right hand shots.

Walcott at 196½ had five pounds on Charles, who at 191½ was the heaviest of his career.

Bidding to become the first ex-heavy champ ever to regain his title where such greats as Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jefferies, Jack Dempsey, Max Schmeling and Joe Louis failed, Charles failed like all the rest.

Once again an underdog at odds around 11 to 5, the slope shouldered old gent from Jersey taught Charles new respect for his zinging left hook.

Still Charles came steaming back past the midway point, jarring Jersey Joe with long right hand leads to the jaw.

Time after time, Walcott backed off in his old familiar retreat trying to lure Ez into the trap for the right hand that knocked Joe Louis down three times — but Charles wouldn't take the bait.

EZZARD FOUGHT cautiously, apparently biding his time for a fast finish, but never was able to nail old Joe for the crusher.

In the last round, Ezzy was bombing—desperately—with long right hands that splattered around Walcott's neck. Walcott's ability to spin, to make Ezzy's punches miss, and counter with those damaging hooks, apparently won him the nod on two ballots. Judges McTierman and Tomasco gave that nod to Walcott to win their close decision.

Oddly, the referee who gave only six rounds to Charles, voted him the 15th.

The verdict was given a mixed reception by the crowd of 21,599 that paid $210,313 into the box office. Another $175,000 was added to the receipts from the television rights.

FROM CHARLES' dressing room came loud denunciation of referee Clayton's tactics by trainer Ray Arce. Arce claimed the referee annoyed Charles all night with his warnings about low blows. From ringside most of the blows appeared right along the border line.

Spring City Y Whips Enders, 7-0, in FCVL

Ron Boettger pitched steady four-hit ball to shut out West End of Phoenixville last night, 7-0, as Spring City YMCA evened its French Creek Valley league record at three wins, three losses.

Boettger, a former SCHS ace, struck-out seven and walked only one in keeping the platter spic and span for the Y-men.

The victors put the game on ice with a two-run effort in the first inning, then coupled runs in the fourth and seventh after getting one in the third.

Glen York and Art Stauffer led a nine-hit Spring City attack with two socks each. George Finkbinder slammed home a pair of runs with a triple and groundout.

Seven West End errors and five stolen bases made the Y-men's work easy.

Steelers Jolt Jacobs, 8-2

Jacobs Aircraft's softballers used 15 men to no avail at the Far fields last night, going down to an 8-2 defeat at the hands of the Bethlehem Steelers.

Gus Miller and Jim Tascione pounded out consecutive home runs to pace a four-run uprising in the second that netted the Steelers all they needed.

They added single tallies in the third and fifth and two more in the sixth on Miller's second homer, while the Jacobs could scrape up but a pair of runs in the third on their seven hits.

George Marquet maced two singles to pace the losers, while Miller bagged three Steeler bingles and Tascione, two. Tascione also went the distance on the mound for the victors. Al Zipay and Bob Endy gave up eight hits between them for Jacobs.

Brownbacks Upsets VFGH

Brownbacks uncorked a ten-run rally in the fifth inning last night to hand Valley Forge General hospital a 12-8 licking, its first of the French Creek Valley league season, in a slugfest at Brownbacks.

The winners trailed, 5-2, when they unloaded seven hits to get ten runs across and break the game open in the big fifth inning. VFGH came back for three runs in the last two innings, but the effort fell short.

Winnie Wertman lapped four singles in as many trips, while Buddy Mawer slammed a first inning homer and a single in the fifth for the victors.

Cotton Hayes got the pitching win after going six innings. He needed help in the seventh from Paul Peiffer, who also contributed a pair of baschits to the win.

League-leading VFGH is now 7-1 for the season, Brownbacks 2-4.

First Road Engagement

Juniors Wander, Face Souderton

Coach Buck Rhoads has reason to hope that his Pottstown Legion Juniors will be on their best behavior when they go visiting to

The Juniors are slated for a 6 o'clock tiff with arch-rival Souderton in the ice ball lot. It could prove a key Montgomery County league scrap for Pottstown is the defending champ, Souderton the strong runnerup.

Souderton teams of recent vintage have beaten better Pottstown clubs than this one appears to be on paper. And just because his club tied a 3-0 knot in Perkiomen here Wednesday night, Rhoads has no illusions.

"We'll win more than we'll lose," he promised after surveying his

Clay Trims PAR, 6-2

Outlit, 8-6, Robinson Clay made the most of his blows and fine defensive play last night to defeat Pottstown Auto Refinishing, 6-2, in a City Softball league game at Franklin Field annex.

The win gave Robinson a 3-2 mark for the year and tied it with Schwab's Oilers for third place. PAR is 2-3 and in fifth place.

The Claymen put across two runs in each of the first two innings, then settled to a crisp fielding exhibition behind the strong eight-hit pitching of Mike Wheeler.

PAR got a singleton in the fourth and another in the sixth, but never could break Wheeler's service for a genuine rally. Robinson matched those runs with short bursts in the home halves of the same innings.

Bob Mauger had two hits in as many tries for the winners, while Chuck Klaus, Keller and Lou Mack had two hits each for the losers. Mack took the pitching loss.

Tonight's league tussle pits the Redbirds and the Moose, the unbeaten league leaders, each of which has won three games.

Eight Local Anglers Pull Out 447 Porgies

A party of eight local fishermen made its largest catch of the year yesterday in Chesapeake bay, hauling over the side some 447 shad porgies within two hours.

Some of the men, on the cruiser "Nancy," captained by Marvin Williams, had made two to three trips to Ocean City, Del., previously this year, but none of the jaunts netted anything near yesterday's catch.

The group was composed of all employees of the Spicer company. They were: Ed Flood, Earl Snyder, Gerry Miller, Melvin Flood, Paul Fout, Russ Mauger, J. R. Sphon, and Harry O'Neil.

Tribe Gains Elusive AL Lead

Early Wynn Hurls 5-0 Blank at Sox; NY Wins, A's Bow

BOSTON, June 5 (AP)—Tricky Early Wynn, using a wide variety of soft pitches, enabled his Cleveland Indians to take over the American League's top place from the Boston Red Sox today by blanking them, 5-0, with a highly impressive four-hit performance.

The Indians registered only one earned run, the initial one, while belting Ellis Kinder and Randy Gumpert for 11 safeties.

Wynn, who now has a 6-4 record, struck out eight and gave up four passes while taming the Red Sox for the third time this season.

Only George Kell's first inning double off the left field wall was a solid Boston blow. Kell also was credited with a single on a sixth inning grounder to shortstop Ike Boone that drew a wild throw to first base.

The Indians collected a pair of unearned runs against Kinder after Jimmy Hegan opened the seventh by reaching first on a Stephens error.

With two out, Boone and Al Rosen singled to bring Hegan all the way around. Then Boone raced in from third as Kinder froze with the ball after making a futile gesture to tag Doby, who had dribbled a grounder down the first base line.

Yanks Sweep

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees completed a sweep of their three-game series with the Chicago White Sox, winning today's encounter, 6-4.

The defending champions, driving toward the top of the American League, now have won four in a row and the Sox, who have lost five in succession, have dropped to sixth place. The third-place Yankees are only 1½ games behind the league-leading Cleveland Indians and a half notch behind the runner-up Boston Red Sox.

Johnny Sain was the winning pitcher, yielding seven hits and batting in the winning runs in the fifth with a two-run single.

Saul Rogovin was the loser, although he permitted only seven hits. It was his fifth loss against four wins. Sain, purchased from the Boston Braves last August, now has a 5-2 record.

Dodgers Score, Lead by 3 Games

PITTSBURGH, June 5 (AP)—Wildness by three Pittsburgh pitchers made it easy today for first-place Brooklyn to shut out the Pirates, 2-0 and make a clean sweep of their Steel City series.

The Pirates, who now have lost eight straight games to the Dodgers, tried hard to win for starting pitcher Ronnie Kline.

Kline gave up only two hits but for pitcher Ben Wade. The game walked nine, before he was lifted in the sixth in favor of Forrest Main.

After six scoreless innings, Roy Campanella of the Dodgers reached first on a walk and eventually scored on a single by Carl Furillo.

The Dodger score in the ninth was made by Jackie Robinson who walked to first and advanced to third on a wild pitch and an infield error. He came home on a double by Gil Hodges.

The Dodger victory was No. 5. Kline gave up only two hits but for pitcher Ben Wade. The game walked nine, before he was lifted in the sixth in favor of Forrest Main.

RIGHT ON THE BUTTON . . . A straight right jab is landed by champion Jersey Joe Walcott on left jaw of Ezzard Charles in title fight in Municipal Stadium, Philadelphia, last night. The action occurred in the fourth round, which most observers agreed was Walcott's round. They didn't exactly agree, however, on the decision, which was given to Walcott unanimously as the old Pappy Guy held his heavyweight title.

ROUND BY ROUND

No Weeping, no Wailing

"Never Hurt Me"—Charles

PHILADELPHIA, June 5 (AP)—

There was no weeping and no wailing in the Ezzard Charles dressing room as the thwarted challenger for Jersey Joe Walcott's heavyweight title sat quietly and answered questions pumped him by the press.

But there was an atmosphere of almost mute disappointment, broken at first by the vociferous and indignant condemnation of the referee by trainer Ray Arcel.

"The referee annoyed him all the way," Arcel shouted. "When Ezzard got his eye cut, the referee wiped off the stuff we put on it. He kept telling Charles to keep his punches up and that he wouldn't warn him again."

WALCOTT WINS

disappointment after the fight although he thought he had won. Although the Associated Press card gave Charles a slight edge in rounds, it would have been very close if the point scoring system had been used. Actually it was such a slow exhibition of hugging and shoving that there did not seem to be too many violent dissenters. A quick poll of ringside comment gave Charles the decision by a narrow margin.

This fourth chapter of the Walcott-Charles "series," each of them for the heavyweight title, had only flashes of solid action. Charles cautiously waited his time while Walcott fought in spurts.

Reporters waited outside Walcott's dressing room for 15 minutes while the champ caught his breath. He looked very tired.

"This proves I'm really champion," said Walcott, who lost twice to Louis and twice to Charles before he upset Ezzard.

"This proves it wasn't any lucky punch in Pittsburgh. I had him all the way. This win meant more to me."

Referee Clayton told the fighters to "come on" as the fifteenth and last round started.

Charles pumped a left and right to the champion's body as Walcott played cautious. Blood trickled from Walcott's nose—the first visible damage he had shown in the fight. Walcott brought a howl from the crowd with a right to Charles' jaw. Then Joe backed away. Walcott stabbed two lefts to Charles' face as the challenger moved around cautiously. After a short spell of inaction, Charles got in a left and right to Walcott's body as the champ backed. Walcott counted with a right, but Charles came back with a left to the body and a right to the head. Again Charles was warned for low punching. Charles smacked a long left to Walcott's jaw and the champ came back with a right of his own. Charles went after the champ and they traded left and rights to the head and body as the bell ended the fight.

Television Fans Lost "Decision"

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Millions of television fight fans were cut off from sight or sound of the Jersey Joe Walcott-Ezzard Charles fight tonight—right at the crucial moment of the decision.

A National Broadcasting company announcer explained that the television mobile unit in Philadelphia had lost power after successfully transmitting the full 15 rounds of the fight.

After a few minutes of silence, the announcer said Walcott had retained his world championship heavyweight title.

Jubilant Champion

"That Proves It"—Walcott

PHILADELPHIA, June 5 (AP)—"I hope that proves to the world that I am the right heavyweight champion." That was the pointed comment of Jersey Joe Walcott as he sat on a table in his dressing room under Municipal Stadium tonight following his successful 15-round defense of the heavyweight crown against Ezzard Charles.

Dripping with perspiration, and looking like a man who had just completed a tough job, Walcott chatted with reporters, patiently answering the barrage of questions that must have seemed endless to the tired, but happy champion from Camden.

"People have been asking if I was lucky in Pittsburgh last Summer when I knocked out Charles to win the title. Some didn't even ask. They just said 'The old man landed a lucky punch.' I hope tonight settled the matter," said Walcott.

The amazing, seemingly ageless champ said he was glad the fight went the limit. "I wanted to win a decision. I planned to win a decision. That's what I did. Naturally I wanted a knockout, if I could get one, but I knew that a 15 round decision would be more satisfying. It would prove more conclusively that I am Charles' master."

THE CHAMP smiled and never once protested although it was obvious he was tired and would much rather have had a chance to lie down and let his trainer work on him.

The champion's manager, Felix Bocchicchio, sat a few rows in back of Walcott looking almost as tired as Jersey Joe. He certainly was just as happy.

"It's up to Joe when we defend the title again," said Bocchicchio. "We'll see how he feels in a few days. If we don't defend by September then we'll tour the world."

"Now we have to make some money with this title. Up to now we haven't made a dime. Maybe now that people are convinced Walcott is the real champion and not just a lucky old man, we'll be able to make this thing pay."

Walcott echoed his manager's sentiments about the financial future and said he was ready to defend his title whenever Felix wanted him to. He thought a tour of the world was a great idea.

"But I'll leave the future up to my manager," said Walcott.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

SQUIRE JOHN O'CONNOR, one of the oldest inhabitants of Mt. Kisco, was in a reminiscent mood the other morning. "I remember this town before city slickers began moving in," he told visitors to Herman Fox's general store. "Those were the days when, if you saw a girl dining with a man old enough to be her father, god darn it, he was!"

The Soviet government recently hornsoggled a Swiss movie manager into showing a hot propaganda film in his string of theaters. It extolled Russian explorers in the frozen wastes of the Arctic, showing thrilling polar bear hunts, seal killing, and the wonderful work of Russian ice-breaking ships and iceberg spotters. One of the trimmest vessels bore a Russian name prominently on the bow. Swiss audiences watched in respectful silence, bursting into laughter only once. That was during a split-second shot, when a sign on the "Soviet" boat read very clearly, "United States Coast Guard."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
IS LONG FELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's. X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Kindergartens Here Enrol 331 to Top Past Year's Number

Registration of 331 children for Pottstown's kindergartens surpassed the 316 that registered the past year when kindergarten was resumed in the schools after they had not been held for more than 10 years.

Havard E. Fosnocht, principal of Pottstown's elementary schools, reported that 56 were registered at the Jefferson school, 98 at Franklin, 48 at Rupert, 31 at Washington, 22 at St. Clair and 76 at Lincoln.

Fosnocht said that the kindergarten program has been a decided success and that he expects it to expand in the future.

Classes will begin in September on the same day as elementary school begins.

Children who will have reached their fifth birthday by Jan. 31, 1953, are eligible to attend kindergarten classes.

There will be two sessions each day. One from 8:45 a. m. to 11:45 a. m. and the other from 1 p. m. to 3:30 p. m.

Pupils register in one or the other session for the entire school year.

5 in Business Club To Attend Convention

Five American Business club delegates and their wives will leave for the national ABC convention to be held in Springfield, Ill., June 15 to 19, it was reported last night.

President and Mrs. William Hillegas, Mr. and Mrs. George Longacre, Mr. and Mrs. Joe L. Bowen, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffecker and Mr. and Mrs. Emil St. Onge will make the trip.

Speaking at last night's session with 22 present in the Elks' home was Isaac Thomas of The Hill school who reviewed the early history of Pottstown in connection with the bicentennial.

Hillegas presided at the club session. A board meeting concluded the night's activities.

Library Here Noting Vacation Book Week

The Pottstown public library is currently celebrating its annual vacation book week for the young readers with more than 100 books on display in the reading room.

The new books will be on display until Wednesday when they will be put in circulation.

They are designed to appeal to the child who has just reached the reading age to the Senior High school student.

Two prize winning books of 1951 are the Newberry prize book, "Ginger Pye" by Eleanor Estes and the Caldecott prize book, "Finders Keepers" by Will Nicholas.

Illegally Driving Car Brings Fine, Costs

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, June 5 — After he pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle after suspension of his driver's license, Ernest W. Haines, of 627 Walnut street, Pottstown, was ordered by Judge George C. Corson today to pay a $75 fine, in addition to the costs of prosecution.

He was arrested April 22 by Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy, of Pottstown, for driving his car in a reckless manner on High street. His license had been suspended several days earlier for a month for failure to yield the right of way.

Triple Inquiry Started Into Buzzing of Airliner

PITTSBURGH, June 5 (AP)—A triple investigation started today into the buzzing down of a jam-packed non-scheduled airliner by two planes over Pittsburgh.

Quick thinking by Pilot Capt. Henry Glaser, who sent his two-engine craft into a sharp descent and dive, averted a possible collision with one of the smaller planes late last night.

About 30 of the 49 passengers aboard the plane bound for Burbank, Calif., and coming from Washington, suffered minor injuries. Four were hospitalized.

Capt. Glaser recounted the tale of how two military planes came into his flight path at 4000 feet altitude and started flying right at his craft.
